NARRATOR:

Some dates you always remember, like birthdays and anniversaries.

But some dates you just want to forget, like last year, when Congressman (x) joined right-wing politicians who wanted to repeal our healthcare, and limit access to affordable coverage.

On that day, Congressman (x) voted to rip away protections for New York families...

He/she voted to allow insurance companies to charge individuals more if they have a pre-existing condition...

Congressman x voted for an age tax that threatens care and costs seniors more.

He/she even voted to gut vital healthcare funding for seniors, kids and people with disabilities covered under Medicaid.

We're certain that Congressman X was hoping you forgot his/her vote.

Let's remind him/her that there's nothing more important than protecting access to affordable healthcare.

Call Congressman x at xxx-xxx-xxxx - tell him/her to do the right thing this time and protect our healthcare. Because there's one day we all can remember: Election Day.
